TWO CENTS

DRIVE AGAINST COAL PRICE STARTED IN FAYETTE COUNTY

Questionnaire Sent to Operators by Department of Justice for Answers

CAN SHORTAGE RESPONSIBLE

Efforts of Attorney General Palmer to beat down the price of coal through the use of the "teeth" of the Lever act saw its commencement this week in the Connellsville region. A receipt of questionnaires by coal operators there from the Department of Justice inquiring into certain conditions relating to present market conditions. How far Mr. Palmer will proceed with the threatening attitude remains to be seen, but in the meantime the coal supply continues at low ebb and the high market created by the inability to get tonnage to market is forced higher by the competitive bids of hard pressed consumers.

No formal action has been taken in the Fayette county coal fields with regard to Mr. Palmer's view that the present market price gives operators "an unreasonable profit" within the meaning of the Lever law, but at Washington representatives of the various coal associations have entered spirited protests against the "coal drive." It is asserted that the present coal market is caused by the shortage of coal cars and that until that situation is relieved and coal operators are given an opportunity to supply the needs of "coal hungry" consumers there can be no reduction in the price level. Regardless of the outcome of Mr. Palmer's "profiteering drive."

Operators in the Connellsville field second these views with the added statement that "give us cars and prices will slip." The coal market, all well informed trade authorities agree, was driven to the sky by the railroad situation and in seeking to create the impression that coal operators are responsible for the present high level of prices, it is claimed that Mr. Palmer is only "blowing dust in the air" in an effort to divert the attention of the public from the real seat of responsibility. Without seeking to inject a partisan attitude into the situation operators in the Connellsville field place the responsibility upon the administration, from the President down, aiming that "dilly-dallying" with the railroad problem was the direct cause of the railroad tie-up, commencing with the unauthorized strike, when workmen made sudden by continued promises without action took that course to voice their protest. While that strike wore itself out it still breaks out anew from time to time with resultant confusion to the transportation lines generally and railroad men as a class go about their work in a slipshod half hearted manner and doubtless will continue to do so until the decision of the railroad Labor Board determines their status.

Coal operators are of the opinion that in a "profiteering drive" the

REMOVE SPLASH BOARDS TO FACILITATE PUMPING

About 100 feet of splash boards were taken from the top of the dam at Lock No. 4 on Wednesday, in order to lower the stage of water in the fourth pool. This was done in order to make the job of pumping out the steamer Vesta, which sank about three weeks ago near Allentown somewhat easier. The sunken steamer has been righted and the owners expect to have the boat floated in a few days and taken to the marine ways at Floreffe for rebuilding.

BOARDS WARNED OF TEACHER SCARCITY

Public high schools will be short by 15,000 teachers when the fall term opens, according to estimates by A. O. Neal, of the federal bureau of education, Washington, D. C. The bureau recently conducted an extensive inquiry among more than 7,000 high schools in the country.

These schools now employ 65,577 teachers and will require 17,275 new teachers in the fall to provide for the normal increase in enrollment to take the places of those who are leaving the schools for other work. Mr. Neal considers that this proportion fairly represents the general condition in high schools throughout the country, and he estimates that a total of 25,978 places must be filled before the next school term begins.

The visible supply at present does not approach that number. A canvass of colleges and universities to ascertain what number of graduates would take up teaching show that of these who will adopt this calling 1,630 men and 4,742 women will choose high school teaching.

School boards everywhere are being advised to strengthen their forces in every possible way by raising salaries and improving conditions as well as in other ways.

government is placing the cart before the horse, for if the car shortage could be overcome the prices of coal would seek a normal level in a very short time and the days of the high prices for bitumen would soon be over. Coal is now being quoted at $9.50 to $10 per ton at the mines, but car shortage makes capacity production impossible. Overhead expenses must be considered, whether the mine is working or not, and all of these must be taken into consideration when the price of coal is being considered.

Concrete Top at Lock Three Gives Increased Stage of Water

About one year ago the United States Government officials began to place concrete tops on four of the dams in the Monongahela river, which has made such gigantic strides during the past year. The completion of the concrete tops at the other dams mentioned above named pools with a view of facilitating the coal industry in the Monongahela valley, which has made such gigantic strides during the past year.

Owing to scarcity of labor and material, as well as numerous delays on account of high water none of these improvements were completed last season. With the opening of the present summer season the work was resumed and splendid progress has been made. Last week saw the completion of the work at Lock No. 3, which gives increased stages of the first one to be finished, which gives about 40 more inches of water in the third pool, and makes a most desirable shipping stage even during the low water period.

It also gives ample water at several shallow places in the pool, especially at Milesville, which has

TELLS OF WAR WORK DONE BY THE ELKS

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, now in session at Chicago, former Governor John K. Tener spoke of the war work of the Elks. He said: "The Elks was the first organization to realize the need of hospitals at home and abroad. While the Elks turned over their club houses for any purpose of the Government; they sold Liberty Bonds in every drive; they assessed themselves $2,000,000, built a magnificent reconstruction hospital at Boston and equipped two fine base hospitals in France. The work of the commission did not end with the armistice."

"While the government had established the board of vocational education, the law made no provision for immediate financial help. When the Elks' commission learned of this situation it created a fund of $200,000 from which money was advanced to wounded soldiers until they received their checks from the government."

SURPRISE PARTY FOR ONE OF THEIR MEMBERS

The Hawaiian Moonlight Club held a surprise party in honor of Charles Engel, at the home of his parents on Stady avenue, Wednesday evening. About thirty guests were present and the evening was spent in games and dancing, after which a lunch was served. Mr. Engel was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents.

TRAIN KILLS THREE BOYS AT DONORA

A very distressing accident occurred at Donora Wednesday evening, in which three small boys lost their lives. The accident occurred on the Monongahela Division of the Pennsylvania railroad about 7:15 last evening, when passenger train 7816, the Union town express, ran down three boys at what was formerly known as Crombie's crossing, killing them instantly. The boys were John Matus, aged 9; John Mihalko, aged 5 years, and Michael Odnizhar, aged 7 years.

The point where the accident happened is near Americo park, where the base ball games of the Donora league are played. It is said the boys were disappointed last night because a game had been cancelled and were on their way home. According to one story they were crossing the tracks at the time, being unable to see the approaching train because of freight cars on a middle siding at that point. Another story is they were so intent on throwing and catching a ball as they walked across the tracks that they failed to note the train coming in time to save themselves. The bodies of the boys were badly mutilated.

Engine 3189, attached to passenger train 7707, due at the local station at 3:43 fast time, bursted a flue yesterday afternoon just as it drew into the water plug at Maule creek. The break was so bad that the engine crew had to draw the fire while the conductor telephoned for another engine to take the train to Pittsburgh. The rain was delayed about one-half hour by the accident.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERT READY TO BEGIN WORK

J. M. Veasey, recently appointed supervisor of the vocational agricultural instruction in the schools of Washington county, arrived in the county on Wednesday and will spend the remainder of the week conferring with county superintendents and relative to the work of the school next fall. Prof. Veasey stated that agricultural instruction would be started in at least five rural high schools of the county at the opening of the fall term and more if possible.

WIN SUIT TO HAVE OPTION ANNULLED

An adjudication has just been handed down by Judge James I. Brownson, in the suit of John L. Figler and Milton Bigler, executors of David Bieler, against D. M. Garrison, Reid Kennedy, Walter H. Hawkins and Robert M. Steffler, a litigation involving an option on a tract of coal in West Bethlehem township.

The court holds that at the time the plaintiffs made their tender demand D. M. Garrison was bound, if he wished to enforce the contract for the sale to him of the coal in question to comply with the demand by paying and securing the purchase money in accordance with the terms of contract, and his failure to do so put him in default. This default, the court further holds, justified the plaintiffs in rescinding the contract and declaring void the agreement.

Under all the facts the court concludes that the agreement in question is now null and void and of no effect whatever. It is directed that it be delivered up to the plaintiffs for cancellation.

AGREE ON REPAIRS TO CREEK BRIDGES

The commissioners of Greene and Washington counties were in conference relative to the matter of inter-county bridges over the waters of Ten Mile and Wheeling creeks. The two boards met in executive session and decided that joint bridge No. 1, of Ten Mile creek, between East Bethlehem township in Washington county and Jefferson township in Greene county, should be re-floored and re-painted, the supervision of this work to be done by the Greene county commissioners. The necessary repair work and repainting of all other bridges over Ten Mile creek will also be looked after by the Greene county board, while the bridges that cross Wheeling creek between the two counties such repairs as are required will be supervised by the commissioners of Washington county.

Probable Ratification of Amendment would Leave Little Time to Enroll

MUST ENROLL AND PAY TAXES

The Attorney General of Pennsylvania wants this State to be prepared to handle woman suffrage at the coming election, and to that end has advised preparedness on the part of the various boards of county commissioners throughout the Commonwealth.

If the legislature of Vermont, which meets August 1st, ratifies the woman suffrage amendment, there will be little time left for the preliminaries to have more than 2,000,000 women qualified to cast their first vote in November, and Attorney General William I. Schaffer in a statement issued Wednesday evening suggested to county commissioners throughout the state that they prepare the books and blanks needed to register and assess for taxation the many prospective voters.

The Attorney General, while declining to give any ruling as to whether women will be able to vote without additional legislation, such as the Democratic State Committee believes to be necessary, says it would be "the part of wisdom" to prepare for registration and assessment of the women. Sometime ago state officers said they did not see any necessity for a special legislative session and that satisfaction of the amendment by enough states would qualify the women to enroll.

The Vermont Legislature meets August 1st, and Attorney General Schaffer said Pennsylvania should be on the alert because the greater number of the women are not on the property assessment lists. If the amendment should be ratified the first week in August it would leave but three weeks in which to assess all the women of the state so they could pay taxes. The law requires assessment two months before an election and taxes to be paid a month before

RELEASED FROM NAVY TO STAND COURT TRIAL

Wanted in connection with the death of a companion who died after being wounded in the leg, John Puzak, of Star Junction, Fayette county, was arrested at Newport, R. I. by Sheriff I. I. Shaw and County Detective Smith of Fayette county, after the officers had secured the lad's release from the U. S. Navy. Shortly after the shooting, which is said to have been done by Puzak, he disappeared and later information reached the officers that he had enlisted in the navy. The young man was brought to Uniontown on Monday and committed to the Fayette county jail.

I will collect that rent, positively in advance and guarantee no vacancies. Clyde B. Cope, Real Estate supervised by the commissioners of Washington county.

WHY WE WENT TO WAR

The Democratic party, says its platform, "favors the League of Nations as the surest if not the only practical means of maintaining the permanent peace of the world and terminating the insufferable burden of great military and naval establishments," and it goes on to explain that "it was for this that America broke away from traditional isolation and spent her blood and treasure to crush a colossal scheme of conquest."

This is the poet's version of our belated entrance into the war.

The fact is recorded in the resolution adopted by Congress at the first session of the Sixty-fifth Congress and approved by Woodrow Wilson on April 6, 1917, which reads: "Whereas, the Imperial German Government has committed repeated acts of war against the Government and the people of the United States, therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the state of war between the United States of America and the Imperial German Government which has been thrust upon the United States is hereby formally declared."

The declaration of war followed very closely the words of President Wilson in his address at a joint session of April 2, in which he said:

"I advise that the Congress declare the recent course of the Imperial German Government to be in fact nothing less than war against the Government and people of the United States; that it formally accept the status of belligerent which has been thrust upon it."

America "broke away from traditional isolation" only when in the opinion of her President and her Congress the Imperial German Government "thrust" war upon her.

We went to war to defend ourselves and our country. We fought for no vague altruistic purpose, but in obedience to the primal instinct of self preservation."

CROWDING IDLERS

A discreetly anonymous correspondent of the Philadelphia Record objects to the women idlers who crowd the street cars and the movies and waste so many precious hours "gadding along the streets and gazing in shop windows." He thinks these "privileged loafers" ought to be at home preserving food supplies for the lean winter ahead, making, mending and cleaning clothes, saving money by doing their own sweeping, dusting and cooking, and inventing economical yet savory dishes for the tired bread-winning men when they come home from work. He even goes so far as to say: "If some act of legislation were passed as your correspondent suggests, limiting the number of days per week or month when women might travel in large cities and towns a great accomplishment would be attained. Of course the legal restriction would not include workers in offices, stores, etc., but would keep at home, doing their proper household work, the moving mass of plethoric females that surge along the crowded sidewalks from morning till night."

Dismissing this absurd suggestion, it remains to be said that the mania for idling is not confined to any class or sex. The noticeable disposition of many men to "lay down on the job" has become in a great number of women without regular occupation has always been greater than the number of men. Doubtless many of the women seen "gazing in shop windows" really work they serve their families by continually looking for bargains, fashionably imagining that they save money when they buy articles they really have no need of merely because such articles, actually worth about $2, are marked "Reduced from $12 to $7."

A FINE CREED

The following words were uttered by Senator Harding of Ohio shortly before his nomination for the presidency:

Remember your dead. W. S. Cook and Co. Monuments with Lawrence Frye Funeral Director. 208 1/2

"It is a fine to idealize, but it is very practical to make sure our own house is in perfect order before we attempt the miracle of old world stabilization."

"Call it the selfishness of nationalism if you will. I think it an inspiration to patriotic devotion."

"To safeguard America first;

"To stabilize America first;

"To think of America first;

"To exalt America first;

"To live for and revere America first."

"We may do more than prove exemplars to the world of enduring representative democracy where the constitution and its liberties are unshaken. We may go on securely to the destined fulfillment and make a strong and generous contribution to human progress, forceful in example, generous in contribution, helpful in all suffering and fearless in all conflicts."

"Let the internationalists dream and the Bolsheviks destroy. God pity him for whom no ministerial rapture swell." In the spirit of the republic we proclaim Americanism and acclaim America."

REDUCING THE FORCE

Some 6,000 clerks have been dropped from the various departments at Washington, because of lack of appropriation to carry them along. For many months it has been contended by Congressmen that there were entirely too many clerks in the various departments of the government at the capital city, but in spite of this fact the administration kept adding to the number, retaining their forces at and even beyond war strength. As there appeared to be no disposition on the part of the heads of these departments to reduce the number Congress reduced the appropriation, which compelled action on the part of the officials. However, the 6,000 need not fear for a job, if they want to work, for the country is in need of workers, although the different communities are not in position to offer the same attractions as are to be found in Washington.

The greatness of the Monongahela valley is shown by the impressive figures submitted to government officials by the various locks along the river. As a producer of black diamonds the valley stands in a class by itself, while as an avenue of commerce the Monongahela river is greater than the Panama or the Suez canal. We who live so near fail to realize the importance of the important figure our valley and our river cut in the industrial affairs of the world. Were we further removed from the scene of these great activities we would realize the true perspective which the Monongahela, both valley and river, bears to the affairs of the world.

Attorney General Palmer did not come out of the contest at San Francisco with much popularity. In fact, he seems to have lost a great deal of the prestige with which he invaded the Pacific coast city. He is charged with being a "stalking horse" for McAdoo, and that he was playing the administration game for the purpose of securing the nomination of the "crown prince." However, that is a feature the D. O. P. will have to settle among themselves, while "Mitch" can now give his undivided attention to reducing the high cost of living, which he has promised the people, for so, these many months.

Senator Harding's decision to make this a "front porch" campaign is one that will be very cordially agreed to by his most ardent admirers. It is the purpose of the Republican nominee to conduct his campaign on a high and dignified plane, and has said that no personalities will be indulged in. Senator Harding very truthfully says this is a contest between parties and not between individuals; that we have a government of party, and not of the individual.

William Jennings Bryan says his heart is in the grave, and that he must wait until it comes back to him before he is ready to announce what position he will take in the presidential contest. The "peerless leader" may support Cox, but the chances are that he will not. He may not work against him, but his attitude will undoubtedly have its influence on a large following which has heretofore looked to the Nebraskan as the source of their political inspiration.

The Democratic convention at San Francisco did one thing effectively, and that was to eliminate Mr. McAdoo as a political factor. After being out of the limelight for two years it was a difficult feat to stage a "come back," as other people in the past have realized.

The stage is now set for the Presidential race, the Democrats having selected Governor James M. Cox of Ohio as their leader, with Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, as his running mate. For the next four months the battle will be waged, and it is going to be one of the most interesting in many years. Both leaders are from Ohio, both are newspaper publishers and both have been active in political affairs for many years. There is going to be something stirring every day of this campaign.

Many Democrats in the east were of the opinion that John W. Davis, American ambassador to Great Britain, would walk off with the presidential nomination, after the delegates had put in a couple of days balloting for a selection. However, they were doomed to disappointment as, must now turn to the Ohio man for their inspiration.

There is bound to be a newspaper man as President of the United States after the fourth of next March.

MAY PLAY FOR THE VALLEY CHAMPIONSHIP

Plans are now under way to demonstrate the qualities of the various base ball teams in this section of the Monongahela valley. Representative teams from Donora, Fayette City, Vestaburg, Brownsville and possibly other localities are now being arranged and if successful a series of games will be played. A picked team from the Donora Home baseball league defeated Brownsville on Sunday last by a score of 8 to 5.

CUTTING AFFRAY IS REPORTED FROM DUNLEVY

Dunlevy is said to have been the scene of a cutting affray Monday evening when an argument arose between a number of colored people who were holding a picnic there. It is claimed that Maggie Twiddy of Monongahela used a huge knife with telling effect on the back of Robert Mosbey, and the victim was hurried to the Memorial hospital at Monongahela. The other members of the party dispersed after the cutting took place.

ARMY TRAIN THRO BROWNSVILLE SUNDAY

An army train of seventy-five cars and trucks passed over the National Pike and through Brownsville, on Sunday last, on their way from the seaboard to the army barracks at Columbus, Ohio. The cars were decorated in different colors and were, it is said, direct from the European battlefields, and had been used in the world war near the front line.

Able to Return to Work

C. T. Harry, of 409 North Fourth Street, Ironton, Ohio, is back on the job after a long illness, having taken the Reese Formula R-11.

In a statement Mr. Harry says: "I have suffered for years with stomach trouble, my liver and kidneys were also affected and, until I began taking the Reese Formula R-11, I was unable to work more than half the time. I was drained of every ounce of strength. Eating was a torture to me. I was bilious, bloated, and couldn't sleep; would get up in the morning tired, nervous, irritable and weak. I tried a number of doctors and every remedy I knew of. At last the Reese Formula R-11 was recommended to me. I bought a bottle and after the second day I began feeling better and was able to return to work."

"I have taken two and a half bottles and don't believe I ever felt better in my life. I sleep well now and get up in the morning refreshed and vigorous. The trouble with my stomach, liver and kidneys has all disappeared and I feel stronger in every way."

"My work is now normal. I am at all hours of the day and night and eating my meals as regular but that doesn't bother me now. I consider the Reese Formula R-11 the best stomach, liver and kidney medicine I have used as a tonic and system builder and as a preventive. Such at least as been my experience."

A CHARLEROI INTERVIEW

Mrs. Vellietty Tells Her Experience.

The following brief account of an interview with a Charleroi woman five years ago, and its sequel will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Mrs. Louis Vellietty, 205 Prospect Ave., Charleroi, says: "I was troubled for years with swelling around my ankles and feet and found it hard to get around. A dull heavy pain in the small of my back made it hard for me to do my housework. Mornings I would wake up very sore and found great difficulty in bending or moving in any way. Rheumatic pains shot all through me and I often had a tired draggy feeling. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and purchased a box at Piper's Pharmacy. After taking two boxes of this medicine I was relieved. I still take Doan's occasionally and they keep me feeling fine." (Statement given Jan. 30, 1914.)

On December 1, 1918, Mrs. Vellietty said: "I haven't had to use Doan's Kidney Pills lately and I tell everyone I hear complaining of their kidneys to try Doan's."

DISCOVER LAW WITH SOME TEETH IN IT

Drivers of motor vehicles as well as the general public will be interested in the following from Tuesday's Pittsburgh Dispatch: 'A law with teeth in it was discovered by county detectives when they had to deal with a case of speeding in which two people were run down. Felonious assault and battery was the charge placed against Martin Sikora, of Gibbons street, Pittsburgh, who drove his motorcycle at a high rate of speed into a crowd of picnickers. The father of one of the injured parties swore to the information and efforts will be made on the part of the county officials to secure conviction.'

MONESSEN CLOSES ITS CONCRETE VIADUCT

The big concrete viaduct on Reed avenue in Monessen, which is said to be in a dangerous condition owing to disintegration, has been closed to traffic of all kind, and as a consequence the people of that section of the town are greatly inconvenienced. It is a great loss to the town, but in order to prevent any accident or loss of life the authorities thought it was best to close the structure to traffic. The matter of repairs to the viaduct is now in the hands of experts, and as soon as they reach a decision plans for the repair of the bridge will be made public.

SQUIRE CULBERTSON HAS DOUBLE WEDDING

Squire Lafayette Culbertson of Lock Four, performed a double wedding at his office at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. The contracting parties were Joseph Barro and Mary Javar, who obtained their license in Washington county, and Louis Altemara and Mary Collage, who secured their license in Pittsburgh. All of the parties were from Monessen and the Squire executed the job with neatness and dispatch.

CHARLEROI PLEASSED BY QUICK RESULT

Everyone is pleased with the quick results of simple witchazel camphor hydrastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash. One man's eyes were so badly strained he could not read without pain. Two applications relieved him. A lady with weak, inflamed eyes was greatly helped by ONE bottle. We guarantee a small bottle of Lavoptik to help ANY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes. Hennings Drug Store, corner Fifth and McKean.

KILLED AT ALICIA WHILE LOADING BARGES

John Thomas, an experienced employee of the Pittsburgh Steel company, was instantly killed Wednesday morning about 7:30 o'clock, when he was caught in the barge loading machinery. He was 21 years of age and was of Slavish descent, and is survived by his parents, who live at Smock.

USED BY ANCIENT PHYSICIAN

Græco-Roman Medical and Surgical Instruments of Bronze Now in Johns Hopkins University.

William H. Buckley, who served on the staff of the American embassy in London during the war, has presented to the Archaeologist museum of Johns Hopkins University, of which he was a former trustee, a set of ancient Græco-Roman medical and surgical instruments found two years ago near Kolophon, in Asia Minor.

The collection was on exhibition in London and was formerly in the possession of the late Alfred O. Van Lennep, Dutch vice-consul in Smyrna, who owned a large estate near Kolophon and was well acquainted with the excavations and discoveries in that vicinity.

The instruments, 36 in number, are all of bronze, with but one exception. They were probably the property of some Roman physician living in Asia Minor in the first or second century A. D., and the fact that they were all found in one place is doubtless explained, in the opinion of experts, by the ancient custom of burying a person's worldly possessions with him.

The set includes surgical knives and elevators, forceps, tonguecups (sharp hooks), a unique drill bow, for use in injuries and diseases of the skull, scalp, probes and a cautery.

The drill bow is, from the point of view of the archeologist, perhaps the most interesting object. It is like a tool used by carpenters.

SHEPHERD BECAME A PRINCE

Emir Feisal of Arabia Seemed an Altogether Negligible Object in His Early Life.

Emir Feisal of Arabia began life as a dirty little shepherd boy. His mother was an Arabian girl of Mecca and a cousin of his father. When Feisal was still a baby Sherief Hussein sent him into the desert to live with a Bedouin tribe, because it is considered more wholesome for a boy to grow up in the open desert country than in a city or village. In Constantinople Feisal contracted consumption, writes Lowell Thomas in Asia, but since then the desert has taken it out of him, although he is still very thin and has a waist only 21 inches in circumference. He smokes cigarettes day and night and eats sparingly. Among the tribes he is celebrated as an unusually fine shot and a good horseman and camel rider. Feisal is enlightened and thoroughly modern in his views. His people follow him, not through fear, but because they love him. He is much too kind and liberal-minded to rule as an oriental despot of the old school and he may be depended upon to usher in an entirely new order of things for his people.

Wouldn't Wash.

Chatting with Sir Ernest Shackleton, the famous antarctic explorer, he told me that one of the best stories he has heard concerns a famous artist.

He was showing a lady visitor over his studio one day and produced a charming little landscape, indicating that there was a story behind it. "I was out in the forest," he explained, "I had all my materials with me except an empty canvas. I came upon a subject that enchanted me, and felt I must record it. I was determined not to be baffled, so I took out my handkerchief, stretched it across my case, and painted on that."

The lady looked at the handkerchief and then turned a shocked face to the artist. "You'll never be able to wash that paint out," she said.—London Tit-Bits.

Encourage the Swallow.

If you want to free the neighborhood of noxious insects, says the American Forestry association, of Washington, D. C., these birds feed almost entirely on such noxious insects and they will reach toward protecting orchards and other trees from insect pests. No better investment can be made, therefore, than some houses set out for martins and other swallows. Of the blue swallows the purple martin is the largest, the male being entirely blue above and below, while the female is blue above with a gray breast. Swallows are highly migratory, most of them spending the winter in South America.

Students of the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh placed a radio transmitter in Central hall to send out the music of an orchestra, playing in the hall to scores of radio students in the district listening in. Professor Rath, hearing the music in the experiment station of the university, half a mile away, succeeded by the use of a magnavox—an instrument to increase the sound from a radio receiver—and two strings of electric wires, in passing it on a half-mile to the Heinz house, where students danced to it.

The Press Agent's Work.

The old-time press agent is now known as a "publicity expert" and his business has greatly developed in recent years. Outside of the regular theatrical press agents, every American city has a small army of men who find lucrative employment in giving publicity to financial and industrial enterprises, philanthropic and educational institutions, hotels and restaurants, and a wide variety of other things that depend for their success upon the patronage of the public.

Try One Brunswick Then Decide

The best way to know for yourself the superiority of the Brunswick Tire is to buy one and compare it.

That is, if the very name of Brunswick isn't sufficient proof to you, as it is to most men, that here is an extraordinary tire.

Thousands of men who have known the name of Brunswick for years, realize that a Brunswick Tire has to be the best—for a mediocre product could never bear this historic name.

Long before the Overland Trail became famous, the House of Brunswick was established. It was one of the chief users of rubber for fifty years before automobiles came into use.

No concern with such a history could afford to offer anything but the best. For reputations are built slowly, but can be quickly destroyed.

This is a practical guarantee that Brunswick Tires offer more than the usual, yet at no added cost.

Get your first one now. You'll not be satisfied until you have ALL Brunswicks.

Claims "Yankee" Is Chinese.
"Yankee" is a Chinese word, according to Teh Yi Hsieh (whose last name means "Thank You"), a Celestial who is visiting this country. He explains that the word probably came from English or Dutch sailors who had touched ports in the Orient. In East India they may have been greeted with the words "Yang gee," which mean "You are a young foreigner." These East Indian words came from the Chinese words "Yang Jung." Teh Li Hsieh says, and this explains why "Yankee" is a Chinese word.

To Win Success.

The trouble with a great many people is that they are not willing to make present sacrifices for future gain. The tools for self-improvement are at your hand. Use them. If the axe is dull the more strength must be put forth. If your opportunities are limited you must use your energy, put forth more effort. Progress may seem slow at first, but perseverance assures success.—Orison Swett Marden in Chicago News.

Church's Legislative Bodies.

The church of England has two legislative bodies, called convocations, which attend to ecclesiastical matters. Each convocation, that of York and that of Canterbury, contains two houses. The upper house is composed of bishops and other dignitaries, and the lower house is made up of deans, archdeacons and delegates, who are elected whenever a new parliament is chosen.

Almost Incredible

In Bombay there is a fakir who spends all the hours of daylight of every day suspended head downward. Two fiber ropes attached to the limb of a tree constitute his support. Early every morning he takes hold of the handles at the ends of the two ropes, reverses the natural position of the body, and hangs there till sunset. He has been doing this now for three years.

"Chauvinism."

"Chauvinism" derives its name from Nicolas Chauvin, a soldier in the army of Napoleon, who was ridiculed by his comrades for his demonstrative and unreasoning patriotism. The term has come to be applied to anyone exhibiting unreasoning patriotism, or an excessive enthusiasm for national ascendancy.

Wedding Ring Once Barred.

The Puritans of the seventeenth century used no ring at the wedding ceremony, as they considered it "a pagan symbol and superstitious contrivance." All that they required was that the man and woman should join hands when stating their purpose to live together in wedlock.

Isinglass in Japan.

While isinglass, made from seaweed, is produced in every part of Japan where climatic conditions are favorable, Osaka, Kyoto and Iyogo are said to produce more than two-thirds of the entire amount, about 2,800,207 pounds.

There is no man suddenly either excellently good or extremely wicked, but grows so, either as he holds himself up to virtue, or lets himself slide to viciousness.—Sir Philip Sidney.
